Hot

I thought touching you would be the same as touching me. I was wrong. It's different. It makes my heart beat faster and I'm about to lose control. A little more and I will devour you like a wild animal. Your soft lips, your smooth skin, your fresh hair. Touching them with my fingers, kissing them with my mouth, licking them with my tongue makes me the happiest man on earth. But it lasts only for moments. You wake up, mumbling my name, asking me whether everything is ok. "It's just too hot for sleeping, Kaoru." You seem to understand.
